

Vidyo for Triage & Disaster Response

What are Your Needs?

- Are you able to easily bring together the right teams for comprehensive emergency planning?
- Are you able to easily conduct training with responders, hospitals and trauma centers?
- Can you bring in expert consultants to aid in training, planning and response?
- How easily can you connect responders during a response or response exercise?
- Do your emergency rooms and trauma centers have the ability to see what is expected before it arrives?

When disaster strikes – natural or manmade, a coordinated and comprehensive response is critical to saving lives and protecting citizens. Disaster response requires extensive planning and training, expert triage, real-time assessment, interoperable communications and a strong partnership with area hospitals and trauma centers. All responders must be able communicate and coordinate services quickly and effectively. Connecting with the right healthcare providers, from planning to recovery, is critical to saving lives.

The Vidyo Solution

The need for comprehensive planning, including support of healthcare institutions

The use of Vidyo eliminates much of the need for, as well as time and costs associated with travel in the planning process. Vidyo makes it easy to connect with anyone, regardless of their location, even for ad hoc meetings. With Vidyo you can bring in experts from across the country to assist with training and allow for shared best practices. Training can also be recorded and stored in a web-based archive for later access, review and assessment by others.

The need for all-inclusive training that is consistent and ongoing

Vidyo connects people from multiple devices and locations, providing voice, visuals and data. For real-time assessment and evaluation, Vidyo offers unprecedented video communication capabilities for ambulances and first-responder teams on the scene.

The need for real-time communication and data sharing between responders, hospitals and trauma centers

Agencies and experts can be on the scene without leaving their home base increasing the ability to coordinate needed services and respond efficiently and effectively.
